Ship Handling Simulation Training Course

In recent times, several accidents & near misses have occurred involving our vessels which are of great concern to all of us. These incidents have tarnished the reputation of SCI which may result in loss of business and revenue.

In order to strengthen the safety culture on board the vessels and avoid the accidents, it has been recommended that all Masters should undergo Ship Handling Simulation Training Course at least once every five years.

All Masters are hereby advised that while reporting for joining vessels, they should possess Ship Handling Simulation Training Course certificate done within the specified five years, otherwise reporting may not be accepted.
